MOTOI Sauce is an original hot sauce developed by a Michelin-starred chef, made with 100% yuzu sourced from Kyoto Prefecture.

By applying the French confiture technique, we carefully remove the characteristic bitterness of yuzu peel, resulting in a rich, aromatic purée. The seasoning is kept exceptionally simple—just rice vinegar, chili pepper, soy sauce, and salt. This allows the natural flavors of the ingredients to shine, creating a versatile product suitable for a wide range of uses.

Just a small amount added to dishes like fried chicken, sautéed chicken, oden, or pasta instantly elevates the overall flavor. It also pairs beautifully with raw oysters and sashimi such as white fish and squid. Its versatility allows it to enhance a wide range of both Japanese and Western cuisine.

In addition, MOTOI Sauce contains no additives and relies on the natural preserving power of vinegar, allowing it to be distributed at room temperature. In this sense, it can be described as a “pickled” preparation of yuzu and chili. All yuzu used are ungraded, and nearly the entire fruit is utilized. This approach supports an environmentally friendly, sustainable, and zero-waste product.

During the harvest season, the chef and staff also take part in picking the yuzu, strengthening collaboration with local farmers. This effort helps address the challenges of an aging agricultural workforce, supports the continuation of farming, and contributes to the long-term sustainability of local agriculture.

We are confident that MOTOI Sauce—crafted with a commitment to safety, quality, and exceptional flavor—will become an essential addition to dining tables across Japan as a new kind of hot sauce born in Kyoto.
